

Platform One appoints a new Operations Manager.

Platform One, the premium Wrap platform serving both UK and International advisers, is pleased to announce the appointment of Jeremy Sims as Operations Manager.

Jeremy has a strong background in financial administration and operations, having worked in the sector since 1998. At JP Morgan he was Operations Manager dealing with global trade settlements and more recently at Fund Partners Limited he was responsible for ensuring high levels of service and support to fund sponsors and investment managers.

Michael Fordham, Managing Director of Platform One said: “The appointment of Jeremy to the role of Operations Manager is aimed at strengthening our services both in the UK and internationally. We are about to significantly enhance and expand the platform services we provide, particularly in the offshore market, and his experience will help ensure that we continue to deliver the high levels of support we provide to advisers and their clients as we undertake that development”.

Commenting on his appointment, Jeremy remarked “I had been aware of Platform One for a few years, so when the Operations Manager role arose it was too good an opportunity to miss and I didn’t hesitate in accepting the position. My aim is to add my knowledge and experience to Platform One’s already established and high caliber client services team and I hope that I shall also be able to bring some fresh ideas to its operation. I am therefore delighted to be joining the Platform One family”.
